

What:

Talent Camp is a week of masterclasses, workshops, and networking between young filmmakers from many different cultures from morning to night.

We accept approximately 20 film talents between the age of 18-28 years each year, who are exposed to one of the most intensive weeks in their filmmaking career, a rich experience, and new friends for life. Film talents from Denmark, Europe, and the rest of the world can apply to take part.

To ensure the highest quality and the best content for the campers, we co-operate with Danish and European Film Workshops in the Screen Talent Europe-partnership to ensure the recruitment of young, promising film talents from their respective countries as well with Odense International Film Festival, our local Oscar-qualifying short film festival, to ensure a week with access to the best short films in the world.

In other words: Talent Camp is the place where young filmmakers gather in between cultures, language, and production methods to ensure diversity and inspiration for future productions.

"Overall, I think it was a great experience and I wish you to organize this camp for many many years. And I know that every future participant will be very lucky and happy to attend it!"
Gabriele Urbonaite, Ukraine

Why:

Our aim is to give a group of young filmmakers the opportunity to develop their craft and skills, but also to broaden their international network, so their chance of breaking the industry increases further.

When:

Talent Camp is held in late August in week 35 during Odense International Film Festival – a close partner to us in the creation of the camp.

Where:

Talent Camp takes place at Odense Film Workshop, located in the cultural mecca of Odense at Brandts Passage right above the film festival. The campers will therefore be right in the center of all the events.

The practical stuff:

We arrange accommodation for the whole camp, provide most of the meals along with coffee and snacks in between events. We can provide food for both vegetarians and meat eaters.

There is a participant fee of 150 Euros and the campers pay their own transportation to and from Odense.

The program for the camp will be available in mid-august, but we can assure it will be intense and diverse.

Behind the scene:

Talent Camp is organized by Odense Film Workshop and we have arranged the camp since 2008, meaning that we now have a large network of more than 200 former campers spread throughout the world – we call them our ambassadors.

We are a part of the Filmtalent co-operation, consisting of the four regional film workshops in Denmark. We are also part of the Screen Talent Europe-partnership which consists of workshops from the Northern part of Europe.

"It's an amazing experience that will let you meet likeminded people. You'll get to take part in masterclasses, productions and social gatherings that are totally unique and won't regret attending."
Sebastian Christensen, Denmark

For more info, get in touch with this guy:

Nicklas Clark, Film Consultant
Mail: nicklas@ofilm.dk
Phone: +45 25578825
<http://ofilm.dk/international/talentcamp/>